Santa Brownies

Ok, we'll admit it: we cheated a little. Although using a pre-packaged brownie mix won't earn you too many points in the Great British Bakeoff tent, turning to Betty Crocker or her associates will save you time over the hectic festive period. These cute bites are simple to whip up for unannounced guests, but look impressive enough to take along to a party. And why not earn a few points with Santa by leaving one out for him on Christmas Eve?

Method:

1. Follow the instructions provided by the manufacturer to bake your brownies. Allow the tray to cool before shaping the cakes into rounds using a cookie cutter. Aim to get between 12 and 16 circles.
2. Beat the butter and mascarpone cheese together until light and creamy. Mix in the vanilla extract and salt, before adding the icing sugar a little at a time. Continue to beat the ingredients together. A little more icing sugar might be required in order to achieve a consistency that's stiff enough for it not to run off the top of the brownies.
3. Pipe a ring of buttercream on to the top of each brownie round. Alternatively, use a teaspoon to neatly apply a medium-thick layer.
4. Cut off the strawberry leaves, and push the flat base of each fruit on to an iced brownie.
5. To finish, add a daub of buttercream to the tip of each strawberry.

This recipe will make 12-16 brownies.

You will need:

A packet of chocolate brownie mix
(Read the directions on the box to see whether you will need to add any other ingredients to the batter. Individual brands may differ but most require an egg, oil and water.)
12-16 small strawberries

For the vanilla mascarpone buttercream:

115g of unsalted butter
115g mascarpone cheese
385g icing sugar
2 tsp vanilla extract
A pinch of salt

Christmas Cornflake Wreaths

Baking is a great way to keep the kids occupied during the school holidays. This festive variation on the classic krispie cake will be sure to get them in the kitchen.

The easy recipe for 14 wreaths makes a fantastic gift idea for the grandparents or a favourite teacher, or just nibbled as a fun teatime treat. Let youngsters take turns to stir the mixture, and then gleefully lick the spoon!

Method:

1. Melt the butter in a large saucepan over a low heat, stirring frequently to ensure it doesn't burn.
2. Once the butter has melted, add the marshmallows and continue to stir until they have melted too. Add the food colouring gradually until the mix reaches the desired shade.
3. Empty the Corn Flakes into a large bowl, and pour over the melted marshmallows. Stir until the cereal is well coated.
4. Lay a sheet of grease proof paper over a baking tray and spoon on golf ball-sized mounds of the mixture. Allow a little space between each heap. Use a finger to hollow out the middle of each to form the ring shape.
5. Decorate with the miniature Smarties, and put in the fridge to set for at least 45 minutes.

You will need:

75g butter
565g miniature marshmallows
1 tsp green food colouring
180g Corn Flakes
Handful of miniature Smarties

Northamptonshire

Northamptonshire's high streets will be hosting Christmas markets and a range of other special events to tempt shoppers this festive season.

The popular German market will return to Northampton on Thursday November 19. The market will consist of 12 stalls in Abington Street offering food and drinks as well as traditional Christmas gifts and decorations. It will open every day from 9.30am to 7pm until December 20.

The market will launch with a performance from the Oompah Band and the Salvation Army will also add to the atmosphere. Northampton's Market Square will be holding its usual Monday to Saturday markets as well as additional market days on December 13, 14, 20 and 21.

Market Walk will be the location of Santa's Grotto every weekend from November 26 and from December 17 there will be a week of workshops for children there.

There will be two fabulous Frost Fairs, on Sunday November 27 and December 4 in association with The Magic Bean Café, with over 70 stalls featuring local traders and craft people. The second Frost Fair will culminate in a twinkling lantern parade that will wind through the town at twilight.

A spokesman for Northampton Borough Council said: "Add to that a forest of trees, little and large, lining the town centre, shimmering lights everywhere, a packed programme of music and entertainment on the Market Square, fabulous independent and unique shops and a traditional market – Christmas in Northampton is well worth a visit.

"More details coming to www.christmasin-northampton.co.uk from the beginning of November"

There will be late night shopping in Kettering on Thursday December 1, 8, 15 and 22. There is Big Screen movie entertainment with a family focus in Kettering's Market Place on selected days.

For more details check out Kettering Borough Council's Facebook Page: www.facebook.com/thisiskettering for more details and announcements.

On Saturday December 3 there will be the Teenage Market, Saturday 9 – 4 in the Town Centre.

The Yards will be holding a Christmas Fayre on December 24.

There will be free parking Thursdays after 3 pm on December 1, 8, 15 and also on Saturdays on December 3, 10, and 17.

We interviewed a local business celebrating 25 years of trading and this is what she said...

Renaissance Interiors - 25 years and counting

Running a business since 1991 has certainly had its ups and downs.

We started the business in what they all said was a recession... but we figured that was exactly the right time - there could only be one way to go and that was up!

When I managed to get a contract that was really too big for us to handle, we took it on anyway. In 18 months we went from zero - £180,000.00 turnover with just 4 people.

If you think the banks are hard today, you should have tried getting finance back in 1992, so in 1993 we found two really kind investors who took a shine to our little company and invested and tried to teach me the ways of business. Lucky for us I listened.

The basic two rules were:

- Do exactly what you say you will
- Cash is king.

We have kept these simple rules throughout our 25 years of trading.

Over the last 25 years we have transformed customers' homes/lifestyles with beautiful storage solutions. We have been lucky enough to be the main suppliers of a national builder for their top end luxury wardrobes for the last 15 years - and I am proud to say in all that time only three snags.

Our business has been built on customer recommendations and I am often asked what makes us so special.

- The main reason is that we care. And while many home improvement companies are not really in control of their own destiny, awaiting supplies that are always late, not having conscientious staff to do a job properly, we at Renaissance are fussy about our customer quality and care. Some things do go wrong but it's how you put it right that is very important.
- Our product, being a full carcass construction will stand the test of time, recently I went to see a customer locally in need of a new kitchen, she was one of the first bedrooms we installed in 1991, we were both a tad older of course but the bedroom is still looking great after 25 years and she is still happy with it, her new kitchen looked beautiful too.

We are now fulfilling contracts for the children of the customers we once served, which is a great testimonial for our product.

Your customers are not your friends - though some do become so - but you do feel very much a part of the family when working very closely with them in their homes. There are many I keep in contact which makes my job one of the best.

Michael and I would love to thank all of our customers for the last 25 years and look forward to the next years of trading in Wellingborough and around Northamptonshire.

Discover the exciting taste of Antep Kitchen, Wolverton's newest Turkish Restaurant & Bar...

Offering the aromatic and traditional flavours of Turkey in our intimate and relaxing restaurant.

For many years Gaziantep cuisine has held a privileged place amongst the greatest cuisines in the world. We take our inspiration from its traditional rich flavours.

A special feature of Antep Kitchen is the great care taken in selecting the perfect ingredients when preparing our dishes.

So as to enhance your experience and bring you the true taste of the Antep Kitchen we have hand selected some of the finest Chefs, as the skill of the person preparing them are just as important as the quality of the ingredients.

We have an exciting menu bringing you some of the great classic dishes such as the famous Chicken Shish and Lahmacun (the classic Turkish pizza) as well as few of our own favourites.

Highly recommended by Chef is the Kuzu Sarma Beyti, deliciously marinated minced lamb seasoned with garlic and herbs, grilled over our open charcoal grills, wrapped on bread and cheese and drizzled with butter and topped with our homemade tomato sauce and yoghurt, a must try.

Mezes, Turkish breakfast, chargrilled fish, fresh kebabs, gorgeous salads and mouth watering deserts.. we are sure we wont disappoint!

A Christmas Cocktail: Gingerbread and Apple Martini

With the nights drawing in, settling down with a glass of something festive is always comforting. Mulled wine and eggnog are traditional tipples, but this spiced cocktail offers a contemporary alternative. Stoke the fire, pop on a Christmas film, and settle in for the evening.

Method:

1. Edge the rim of a chilled martini glass with agave syrup, then through the biscuit crumbs so that they stick.
2. Pour all other ingredients bar the orange zest into a Boston glass and shake vigorously.
3. Strain the cocktail into a glass, and grate the orange zest on top to serve.

You will need:

55ml Domaine de Canton ginger liqueur
30ml vanilla vodka
70ml apple cider
Few drops of lemon juice
Orange zest
Agave syrup
Digestive biscuit crumbs

OPERA. What do you think of when you see or hear that word?

Lots of music? Yes. In a foreign language? Might be. Funny costumes? Well, sometimes. Expensive tickets? Not necessarily.

How about exciting drama? Magical poetry? Heart-breaking stories? Laugh out loud comedy? Sublime melodies that will send tingles down your spine and bring tears to your eyes? No? Well, think again.

Glyndebourne Tour 2016 is heading back to Milton Keynes Theatre next month and it has got it all: Mozart's dark comedy Don Giovanni (opening scene, cold-blooded murder) and a first for Glyndebourne with Puccini's great tragedy, Madama Butterfly (get the tissues out).

Not only that but this year there's a very special addition to the programme aimed at anyone who is nervous about taking the plunge into this most, some say, mysterious art form.

Paul Rissmann writes music, talks about music and inspires others to make and perform their own music. Safe to say, he's passionate about music.

Which is why he is the perfect frontman for Don Giovanni: Behind the Curtain, a peek at all the stuff you don't normally get to see.

So while it's true that Paul will be demystifying opera itself, you can expect insight into the workings of some of the more workaday elements of Glyndebourne Tour on the road.

For example, in Don Giovanni there's a need for blood and prosthetics; "and of course" says Glyndebourne's head of wigs, Sheila Slaymaker, "some of the hair pieces need to become 'drunk and disorderly'."

The setting for Don Giovanni has been updated to the 1950s, so head of makeup, Sarah Piper, has gone for Hollywood glamour: "We've sourced shades of lipsticks from that era and used products that would have been around at the time – such as cream puffs!"

And in case you thought that the music would be taking a back seat in this performance, the evening will culminate in an extended excerpt from the end of Act II of Don Giovanni.

And if, as you're sitting in the audience, you think you might recognise somebody you know on stage, for the first year ever Glyndebourne will be working with a local choir that will join the cast, chorus and orchestra on stage during the final act of Don Giovanni: Behind the Curtain.

Don Giovanni will be performed from November 8-11 and Madama Butterfly from November 9-12.

A DIGITAL art masterclass open to all features in this season's Autumn Bytes at The National Museum of Computing on Friday afternoon.

The masterclass will be led by John Yeadon, pictured, an artist famous for his Portrait of a Dead WITCH.

The WITCH in question dates from 1951 and is recognised by Guinness World Records as the world's oldest working digital computer. It can be seen, and heard, clicking, clacking and clunking, in The National Museum of Computing.

Visitors will be provided with Wacom Creative tablets to create their digital artwork. Everyone is welcome – you don't need to think you are artistic. Go along and see if John can reveal your inner creativity!

And you can win a creative Wacom Intuos tablet in our competition. Wacom's pen and touch tablets enable you to create your own designs and produce amazing digital paintings.

MK LIFE'S animal expert AMY CONVERSE, from Vets4Pets in Bletchley, discusses Bonfire Night and the affect it can have on wildlife BONFIRE Night is approaching and with it comes fireworks and burning bonfires in celebration.

However when having bonfires, this can sometimes affect the local wildlife, especially hedgehogs who are going into hibernation during this time.

If a bonfire is prebuilt several days prior, this can be tempting for a hedgehog to burrow and hide in. It is more advantageous to build the bonfire on the day of it being burned in order to prevent injury not only to hedgehogs but other small wildlife. If a bonfire must be built several days prior, sevcreative software and online training.

So whether your dream is starting your portfolio, racking up some 'likes', or pushing the limits of creativity, Intuos has everything you need to make it happen.

To enter the competition, tell us the age in years of the WITCH computer at The National Museum of Computing.

eral things can be done to save wildlife. Building the bonfire and placing a barrier around the outside edges should help prevent hedgehogs sneaking in. Also, building the bonfire then moving it 20 metres on the day of the burn to allow animals to escape will also help.

If you lift up the wood and hear a hissing noise this may mean that there are hedgehogs present as this is the sound they make when they are disturbed. Please be safe during firework season and think of our small wildlife as well as our pets when having your celebrations.

feeling festive

YOU may not want reminding but Christmas is less than nine weeks away so it could be a good time to head to Middleton Hall at the centre:mk over the weekend.

Christmas Creation will have masses of crafts, gifts and artwork on display to get the festive shopping underway.

Many items are handmade, including rag dolls, floral arrangements, soaps, cushions, teddy bears, jewellery and bags.

You can munch distractedly on American candy as you browse a range of hampers and baskets, startling wildlife photographs, or baby clothes.

All the stalls are open during the shopping centre's normal opening times. For more details visit davan-exhibitions.co.uk

ON SATURDAY MKBiergarten and York House Centre have teamed up to offer Stony Stratford (and everyone else) a chance to enjoy an Oktoberfest experience.

Special Oktoberfest beers imported from Germany will be on offer along with giant pretzels, German and other meaty and vegetarian food, traditionally-attired bar staff and a brass band to give the occasion all the oom-pahs it should have.

For £5 (on the door) you get all the entertainment and an engraved souvenir glass. Open from noon-10pm, families are welcome during the day but no under-18s are allowed after 8pm. There are more details at york-house.org.uk or mkbiergarten.co.uk

How does an ordinary housewife become a notorious international criminal?

When Anne Darwin told the world – and her family – that her husband, John, had disappeared while canoeing in the North Sea, her life changed forever. She had just lied to the police, the press, her friends and neighbours and her own sons. While her husband hid next door, Anne claimed the life insurance – then left with him to start a new life in Panama. For the first time, Anne opens up about her part in the scheme; her marriage, her harrowing time behind bars and the runaway train of lies that followed their plan to defraud insurance companies with the aid of a canoe.

SCARY stories have been told for generations and are the bread and butter of Hallowe'en but normally are about things that happened long ago.

But if you join Tom the Tale Teller you will hear stories that will make you think twice about booting up your laptop, switching on your tablet or playing with that new fangled toy.

At The National Museum of Computing based at Bletchley Park, the nationally renowned storyteller brings to you a series of spooky tales all with technology at their heart.

The event will take place on Saturday from 1-4pm.

Entry to the museum is £20 for a family ticket (two adults plus three children), which includes entry to Tom's tales. The museum is open from noon-5pm.

CAMPBELL Park will be alive with flashing lights, spinning cars and screaming fair-goers.

For the 38th year Keith Emmett & Sons' annual funfair and fireworks display sets up on the Events Plateau.

The funfair opens tomorrow night until Sunday, November 6.

As with previous years, the fair opens with a reduced price night and others in the series are on Sunday and next Thursday.

The fun in the park comes to a climax when it closes on November 6 with the annual massive firework display, starting at 8pm.

There will be road closures on the night and you will need to get parked early as thousands will turn out.

New village is a runway success

THE RAF base at Upper Heyford may have closed 22 years ago but its fame continues to this day.

Established during the First World War it grew in importance as the Cold War took grip and was largely a base for US fighter, reconnaissance and bomber squadrons. Consequent, along with Greenham Common in Berkshire, Upper Heyford in Oxfordshire became the focus of anti-war protests during the 1980s.

It went on to be a base for US air force bombers operating in both Libya and during the first Gulf War but, in between operations, it also had a lesser-known use.

Its huge hangars and aprons are also a favoured location for film shoots and can be seen in a raft of movies including 1982's Bond film Octopussy as well as Muppets Most Wanted and Fortitude (both 2014) and 2013's zombie flick World War Z.

The most recent film to be shot there is the Natalie Portman, Oscar Isaac and Jennifer Jason Leigh science fiction blockbuster Annihilation, due for release next year.

And you can live there, too. A new village is being built within wing-tip touching distance of the former runways.

Heyford Park will include 150 houses as well as its own US-style brasserie, a corner shop, secondary school and a community space.

The development is being built by the Dorchester Group and is proving as popular as some of the films shot there.

All the homes for sale starting at £359,000 have now sold leaving just five of its more upmarket Kensington properties left, for sale at £459,995 each.

Villa where Pinocchio was penned

LIKE the little wooden boy who's brought alive in the story, it's hard to know the truth about whether a new Hollywood film version of the Pinocchio story is going to get off the ground.

Originally developed by actor Robert Downey Junior's production company, the latest news is that Hollywood studio Warner Bros has picked up the project and brought Ron Howard on board to direct it.

The film will have to be good to better Disney's Academy Award winning version in 1940, which was based on a 19th century novel by Italian author Carlo Collodi.

The 1940 film, which was Disney's second after Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, featured Pinocchio's famously extendable wooden nose, which lengthens every time he lies.

It still has fans today and in 2008 the movie was voted the second best animated film ever by the American Film Institute. It also has an unusual 100% rating on film review site Rotten Tomatoes.

The original story by Collodi was written between 1880-1881 at Villa dei Satiri, which is outside the Tuscan town of Lucca in Italy. Collodi spent much of childhood at the villa and returned there many times, including to write his most famous book.

The four-storey property, which has hosted several famous guests, including Napoleon Bonaparte, is currently being sold by Casaitalia International through Italian property website www.gate-away.com for 19 million.

It includes the huge main villa, a summer house, restaurant, butterfly house, separate baths and also large ornate gardens, which are open to the public.

Depp ditches his colourful LA property

All eyes are on Johnny Depp at the moment as the next instalment of Pirates of the Caribbean film, due to be released in May next year, gets ready to sail.

But the 53-year-old actor has had a starring role of a different kind recently during his acrimonious split with Amber Heard.

During their 15-month marriage details of their stormy relationship leaked out to the media including, most famously, a video shot by Heard at their Los Angeles apartment.

The apartment where the fracas took place in is one of five properties Depp owns within the 13-story Eastern Columbia Building, one of the city's most beautiful Art Deco edifices designed by Claud Beelman.

Depp and Heard had been using the apartments – which compromise four two-bedroom units plus a one-bedder – as a single home.

She recently concluded a $7 million separation from Depp and, following this, he moved out of the apartments and put the whole property on the market for $12.78 million.

The property is available to buy as one 11,500 sq ft home or as separate apartments. But either way the next owner will get to enjoy Depp's quirky, colourful and distinct interior design style. The apartments include several large murals by Brazilian artists Os Gemeos, for example.

Why rent this home? It's pure and simple

THE tenants who've snapped up this one bedroom flat recently will get an extraordinary landlord to boot.

No, I don't mean he's going to jump to it if the sink leaks or the central heating packs up, although he may. Instead they'll have a famous singer looking after them.

The property is being let out by Noel Sullivan, who you may remember was the cheeky chappie member of Hear'Say, the group created out of Pop Idol, ITV's forerunner of the X Factor.

After winning the 2001 competition, the five members of Hear'Say went on to have several No.1 hits including Pure and Simple and Way to Your Love and a chart-topping album, Popstars. But it was short lived. In January 2002 Kym Marsh quit the group and seven months Hear'Say disbanded.

The group helped create several celebrity careers, nevertheless. This includes Myleene Klass, Kym Marsh and Noel, who now works as both a singer and actor in musicals and on TV.

Recently he's been on tour with the musical Dirty Rotten Scoundrels, has a new album out, Here I Go Again, and has just landed a TV role in BBC drama Ordinary Lies.

Noel has been renting out his one-bedroom apartment in SW London for some time and recently switched from a traditional local agent to Upad.co.uk which, he says, helped him rent out the property within a week.

IT sometimes feels as if the South West region is being turned into a film set for TV historic dramas and police procedurals.

Poldark has put much of Cornwall's western coastline and countryside on the tourist map while Broadchurch has done the same for Dorset's West Bay, as has Doc Martin for Port Isaac, also in Cornwall.

Another town currently getting the TV treatment is BBC crime drama The Coroner starring Clare Goose and Matt Bardock. It's filmed in Devon and is currently in production for its second series.

One of the most beautiful locations featured within it last series was Hope Cove, a small seaside village in South Hams five miles west of Salcombe.

The village is famous for its amazing coastal walks and sandy beaches and is therefore an ideal place to buy a holiday home to rent out. This, it is claimed by agent March & Petit, is because its holiday letting season "has always been longer than its more vibrant neighbour Salcombe".

■ The agent (01548 844473 or www.marchandpetit.co.uk) is offering a three-bedroom duplex apartment overlooking the cove for £295,000. It's within Armada House, a property named after the 1588 landings by troops from the Spanish Armada in the cove. It was the last time armed troops from an unfriendly nation set foot on British soil.

Mirror Books

NOW AVAILABLE IN PAPERBACK

A true story of love, abandonment and one heartbreaking secret...

Phyllis always knew she was adopted, she felt unwelcome, unwanted and often on the outside of family life. As a young woman she began the search for her mother. It was a journey of coincidence and heartbreak, love and revulsion, ultimately leading to a sacrifice that would change her life forever.

Finding Tipperary Mary is an uplifting story about a daughter who fought against all odds to build a relationship with the woman who abandoned her. Her honest account deals with issues of adoption, alcoholism, abuse, dementia and forgiveness.

Plus mark for new Ford Ka

By: Stewart Smith

FORD'S all new Ka+ is set to take to the road as a bargain priced replacement of the Ka which first appeared 20 years ago and proved a popular model in the small car sector.

But any resemblance to the original is marginal as the new supermini has five doors and is almost as big as a Ford Fiesta with which much of its underpinning and other components are shared. It joins Ford's small-car line-up alongside the best-selling Fiesta, and the Ka+ provides an new alternative for buyers who want a spacious, well-equipped and high-quality small car at a price starting from £8,995.

Ford says that demand for affordable small cars is increasing in Europe, with price, fuel efficiency and comfort among the leading factors in buyers' decision making.

The all-new Ford Ka+ is a five-door hatchback based on Ford's global small-car platform, and offers good space for five people despite its overall length of less than four metres.

The Ka+ is designed to be high on practicality with 270 litres of luggage space – enough to accommodate two medium-size suitcases – plus 60/40 split-folding rear seats, and 21 storage locations for small items throughout the cabin.

Ford is claiming class-leading front headroom of 1,002mm, rear legroom of 896mm and rear hip space of 1,335mm.

The interior delivers enough room for a two metre tall passenger to sit behind a two metre tall driver.

Equipment in the new Ka+ is upmarket and includes the MyFord Dock in the centre of the instrument panel that enables occupants to store, mount and charge mobile devices such as phones and navigation systems.

Large front door bins can each hold a 1.0-litre bottle, a 0.6-litre bottle and a small umbrella. Another feature is a hidden stowage bin within the end of the instrument panel which is only accessible when the driver's door is open, allowing valuables to be hidden out of sight.

Outwardly the new small Ford may not share many of the original Ka's styling but it looks purposeful with a distinctive high-mounted trapezoidal grille with large, swept-back headlamps and all models offer a smart, integrated finish with chrome detailing for the front grille, together with body-coloured bumpers, door handles and door mirrors.

A two-piece rear skirt with black insert adds character specifically for European models and also reduces replacement costs in the event of low-speed accident damage.

The interior features a grained finish on the instrument panel and contemporary trim materials in a dark charcoal colour scheme.

The Ka+ comes with a standard five-speed manual transmission and the tried and tested 1.2-litre engine has improved fuel efficiency with the use of low-friction engine oil and regenerative charging, which saves fuel by maintaining efficient charge levels in the vehicle battery by capturing 'free' electrical energy when drivers coast or brake.

There are two series options - Studio offered with a 70bhp engine and Zetec which will be offered with both 70bhp and 85bhp options. Both engines achieve CO2 emissions of 114g/km, with combined fuel consumption of 56.5mpg.

Studio and Zetec both come with standard safety equipment including six airbags, electronic stability control with hill start assist, and a tyre pressure monitoring system that can advise drivers with a warning light when a tyre is significantly under-inflated.

All models feature a comprehensive standard specification including chrome front grille, front fog lamps with day running lights, power front windows, electrically operated door mirrors with side indicators, perimeter alarm with remote central locking, a speed limiter and Ford's Easy Fuel system which is designed to prevent filling up from the wrong pump.

Special edition Ka+ Zetec Black and White versions will also be available to order later this year.

The Ka+ Zetec Black and White editions contrast either a black body colour with white roof and door-mirrors, or a white body with black roof and door-mirrors.

Both versions feature black 15-inch alloy wheels and are offered exclusively with the 85ps 1.2-litre Duratec engine

SEAT LEON 2017 REVEALED BY: CHRIS RUSSON

SUBTLE changes are being made to the SEAT Leon bringing the car up to date for 2017. Sharper styling is being introduced front and back and some extra technology is coming on board.

There's also a new upmarket XCELLENCE trim and two new engines are joining the line up. The new model will be on the road early next February and prices are still to be announced.

SEAT will also be releasing a hot new Leon Cupra range in the first few months of 2017. The Leon XCELLENCE will sit at the top of the five model range and includes leather and alcantara upholstery as an option as well as chrome body highlights, LED interior lighting and keyless operation. Across the range the style of the car has been tweaked with sharper lines, a wider grille and new look light clusters front and rear. Two new engines – a 1.0-litre three cylinder turbo petrol and a 1.6-litre diesel – are being added to the range. Both have power outputs of 115ps. Extra equipment includes a semi-autonomous drive system that controls the car in slow moving traffic, road sign recognition, blind spot monitors and a software upgrade which allows voice and gesture control for the onboard systems. A wireless phone charger is also being fitted to the new models. The changes are being made to all three models in the Leon range – the hatch, coupe and the estate - which are currently priced from £17,200.

NEW MUSSO WORKHORSE FROM SSANGYONG

BY: STEWART SMITH

SSANGYONG has announced the launch of a Musso one-tonne pick-up which is powered by a new 2.2-litre turbo-diesel engine. The Musso four-wheel-drive has the towing capability to haul up to three tonnes yet can also double as a family car and can be used for towing a boat trailer or horse box. It goes on sale in the UK this month and the newly developed turbo-diesel engine meets the latest Euro 6 emission standards with maximum power of 178bhp. There are two models in the range. The SE includes a new-look front grille and dashboard, as well as silver finish 18-inch alloy wheels and hard wearing leather-look seat upholstery. It is priced from £15,995 excluding VAT. The EX version has black 18-inch alloy wheels, roof rails, front LED daytime running lights, leather with heated front seats, power operated driver's seat, automatic air conditioning, automatic headlights, rain sensing wipers, a seven-inch touchscreen incorporating an RDS radio, iPod and Bluetooth connectivity. The EX with manual transmission is priced at £17,995 ex VAT, and is also available with a six speed Aisin automatic transmission priced from £18,995 excluding VAT.

The new Musso truck is fitted with multi-link rear suspension and progressive rear coil springs - the only pick-up at this price to offer such a system. The loadbed of 2.04 square metres can carry a Euro standard pallet. Paul Williams, chief executive of SsangYong Motor UK, said: "Our commercial vehicles represent an intrinsic part of the SsangYong range and we decided to reintroduce the Musso name to differentiate this superb utility truck from our passenger cars. "Musso - which means rhinoceros in Korean - is a tough, robust proposition for any trade, and with a specification, price and warranty no others can compete with."

MINI PLUGS IN TO HYBRID POWER BY: STEWART SMITH

socket for the battery is integrated in the left side scuttle. Everything looks familiar in the cockpit with the exception of the start/stop button in the centre of the dashboard glows yellow instead of red. Press the button to start the car and the vehicle remains silent as the hybrid model always starts in electric mode.

The rev counter in the instrument cluster on the steering column has been replaced with a power display. When the combustion engine starts varies depending upon on the vehicle's speed and the intensity with which the driver operate the accelerator pedal. A special feature of the hybrid MINI is that it is basically a four-wheel-drive car. The electric motor transmits its power to the rear wheels, the combustion engine to the front wheels. Head of MINI brand management Sebastian Mackensen said: "With this model we want to convince MINI customers of the benefits of hybrid drive and impress everyone who already has hybrid driving experience with MINI's unique go-kart driving feel. "The key to achieving this lies in intelligent energy management which is used to control how the combustion engine and electric motor operate together. For this reason, the first MINI plug-in hybrid model is not solely focused on efficiency, but in pursuit of driving fun." Trials of the new model are continuing before BMW takes any decision of putting the MINI PHEV into production

BMW has almost completed the development of the first MINI plug-in hybrid model. It features a petrol combustion engine and an electric motor enabling purely electric propulsion for zero emission motoring. The MINI plug-in hybrid, or PHEV, comes with a high-voltage battery under the rear seats providing power for long-lasting electric driving. An AUTO eDRIVE standard mode permits speeds of up to 50 mph, while in MAX eDRIVE mode speeds of up to 78 mph are possible. This means that entirely electric driving is possible at speeds well beyond city traffic pace. The charging

NEW SUV FROM AUTO GIANT GEELY

BY: STEWART SMITH

CHINESE car maker Geely is to launch a new premium SUV on the global market next year which has been designed and engineered by Volvo which the company also owns. Called the Lynk & Co 01 it will be the first of several new models the Chinese giant will roll out in the next few years. The 01 has been designed by Brit Peter Horbury in Sweden with support from studios in Shanghai, Barcelona and Los Angeles. It is due go on sale in China next year with sales in the UK expected towards the end of 2018. The Lynk & Co 01 will be powered by Volvo engines including a 1.5-litre three-cylinder petrol unit, a hybrid and an all-electric model. There will be a choice of seven-speed auto or manual gearboxes plus front or all-wheel drive. The new brand will be marketed on a different basis than normal. Lynk & Co cars will be sold online or in owned stores in strategic retail locations, with fixed prices. Cars will be delivered, and picked up for service directly at the door of the owner. New solutions for car usage and access will be offered – from traditional ownership, leasing or sharing between small groups.

The new SUV will be kitted out with high-tech gear including a 10-inch central touchscreen and telematics systems that are connected to the Internet 24-7. Apple CarPlay and MirrorLink connectivity is supported and well as Android Auto. It can also be controlled by smartphone via a Lynk & Co app. All Lynk & Co models, as with Volvos, have been developed to meet the latest top rating safety ratings and as well as all its passive safety features the 01 will feature forward collision warning and autonomous emergency braking, pedestrian detection, adaptive cruise control, blind spot detection and lane departure warning. Geely says it is aiming for around 500,000 worldwide sales of Lynk & Co models over the next five years.

VAN MAN MIFFED BY BAD LAD TAG BY: CHRIS RUSSON

VAN drivers think they are being made a scapegoat for poor driving on Britain's roads, according to a new study by TomTom Telematics. The sat nav and vehicle data company surveyed 100 LCV drivers and found that less than one in ten had been involved in a road accident in the past 12 months. The findings challenge earlier research by TomTom in which van drivers finished bottom of the list when it came to which road users are considered the safest or most careful. Jeremy Gould, European vice president for TomTom Telematics sales, said: "The traditional 'white van man' stereotype may no longer be a fair one with a great deal having been achieved over recent years to help raise driving standards among LCV operators."

He said that developments in vehicle telematics, which allow fleet managers to monitor vehicles on the road, had resulted in significant improvements in driving standards. According to the research, truck drivers were considered the safest road users, with a third of van drivers (33 per cent) voting them top. Thirty-three per cent meanwhile considered cyclists to be the least safe. More than half (59 per cent) believed in-cab technology that provides audible and visual alerts offer the best approach to improving driving standards, followed closely by 49 per cent that voted for driver training courses. Of the drivers who took part in the survey more than half (54 per cent) said they had driving performance monitored by their employer and more than a third (34 per cent) received driver training. Mark Cartwright, head of vans at the Freight Transport Association, said: "Van drivers are often unfairly maligned and, in some quarters, continue to shoulder an undeserved reputation. "Initiatives such as the FTA Van Excellence scheme have been embraced by the industry, demonstrating its commitment to improving standards and increasing best practice awareness."

CLASSICS ATTRACT FEMALE FANS

BY: CHRIS RUSSON

MORE and more women are getting hooked on classic cars and Birmingham is the UK hotspot for female enthusiasts. A poll by classic car insurance specialists Footman James has revealed that one in four women would consider buying a classic. And Birmingham is the top place for female classic owners ahead of Tonbridge in Kent, Bristol, Sheffield and Brighton.

The research, which polled over 2,000 adults, revealed 26 per cent of women would now consider buying a classic car – showing the classic car club is no longer reserved for the stereotypical middle-aged man. Footman James' data also revealed that over the past two years, the number of female classic car owners has risen by 40 per cent, with female customers expected to account for 11 per cent by the end of 2016.

The average age of a female owner has fallen consistently over the last few years, now standing at 52 years old. According to the study, the top classic car makes owned by women were Morris, Volkswagen, MG, Mazda and Land Rover. Footman James' research also found that on average men spend more each year maintaining their classic spending £1,700 compared to the £1,500 forked out by female buyers. Footman James spokesman Liam Lloyd said: "Nowadays the classic car market is no longer an old boys club, with female owners proving their savviness when it comes to picking the top performing models."

Five-time world auction record holders Classics Central are back at the Bedford Autodrome on Sunday 30 October with another bumper sale of modern classics and chrome-bumper favourites.

With classic cars on the rise across the country, Classics Central's sales attract significant national attention and in some cases international attention as well, drawing in bidders from the United States, South Africa, mainland Europe and south-east Asia.

Based off the A6 north of Bedford in Thurleigh, CC is proud to work on behalf of local people and takes seriously its commitment to service of its local area as well as its international reach.

Headline cars this occasion are a 1965 Mercedes-Benz 230SL "Pagoda", at £60,000-80,000, and a 1989 Ford Sierra "Sapphire" Cosworth, with just 22,744 miles, at £26,000-28,000.

Starter classics include a 1993 Mercedes-Benz E200, with full MoT and just 86,000 miles, for £1,000-1,250 and a 1980 Triumph Spitfire priced at £2,500-3,500.

The lineup is rounded out by a selection of post-war, chrome-bumper Jaguars, with two MkIIs, an S-Type and a MkI all on offer for between £16,000-25,000.

Auctioneer and Managing Director Justin Lazic says "We always enjoy representing the local Bedfordshire area in sales which are now gaining large national and international exposure.

With five world records already achieved, there has never been a better time to offer your classic car at auction - and with many excellent examples still available, the chance to become a classic owner is easier than it's ever been."

Join Classics Central on Sunday 30 October for your slice of the classic car action - and telephone 0800 122 3335 or email cars@classicscentral.co.uk to receive a complimentary printed sale catalogue.

ICE HOCKEY

It's a fab four for Lightning

Strike it lucky: MK Lightning's Jordan Cownie and Frankie Bakrlik congratulate Tom Carlon on scoring against Manchester Phoenix. Picture by Tony Sargent

BY CIARAN THOMAS

sport@onemk.co.uk

IT WAS a four point weekend for MK Lightning as they bounced back from conceding two early goals to put six past Manchester Phoenix at Planet Ice on Saturday, before edging past Sheffield Steeldogs on Sunday.

Six different Lightning players found the target as Phoenix were beaten 6-2.

It was a tighter affair on Sunday, as Lightning twice led but were pegged back to 3-3 in the final period, before captain Adam Carr struck late on with his first goal of the season.

The double, Lightning's first four pointer since the end of last month, saw them keep up the pressure on leaders Telford Tigers at the top of the English Premier League, with three points separating the sides after Tigers' also picked up maximum points.

The weekend didn't start as planned however, as Manchester raced into a 2-0 lead inside five minutes in Milton Keynes, Marek Indra opening the scoring on 67 seconds, before Robin Kovar doubled the lead.

It was a different story after the restart as Jordan Cownie set up Tom Carlon to shoot within 50 seconds and from thereon Lightning never looked back.

A leveller was ruled out minutes later but they wouldn't be denied and on 33 minutes Frankie Bakrlik dummied the keeper to score.

Lightning were soon ahead as a delayed penalty saw Lewis Christie supply Cownie and in the final seconds of the second period, MK took advantage of a powerplay, Lewis Hook with the fourth.

Five minutes into the third period Bobby Chamberlain put the result beyond doubt, following another delayed penalty.

The night's scoring was capped off with a minute to go by Blaz Emersic.

Sunday was a different story, the game switching backwards and forwards, but again Lightning had to come from behind.

Craig Scott and Bakrlik were both on target and it was all to play for in the final period with Przemyslaw Odrobny producing a fine save to keep Lightning level.

Just when it looked like overtime was looming, Carr struck to seal a perfect weekend.

FOOTBALL

Vase win for Swans' 10 men

NEWPORT Pagnell Town took the first step on the road to Wembley on Saturday as they beat Daventry Town 3-2 in the FA Vase first round, Paul Edgeworth sealing a pulsating tie late on for the Swans, who were also reduced to 10 men.

Newport's other goals came from Dave Baker and Greg Line.

But Line then saw red after he was shown a second yellow card.

It left the Swans having to play the final 15 minutes a man light, but when extra-time appeared to be looming, Edgeworth calmly stroked in the winner.

Newport Pagnell will now welcome Spartan South Midlands Division One side, Broadfields United, in the second round on November 12.

GRAND PRIX

Red Bull's Ricciardo is on the podium again

DANIEL Ricciardo secured a fourth successive podium finish for Red Bull Racing at the United States Grand Prix in Austin, Texas, but it was a frustrating afternoon for the Milton Keynes-based team.

Lewis Hamilton took victory in yet another Mercedes one-two, ahead of team-mate Nico Rosberg, as Ricciardo was forced to settle for third, with Red Bull team-mate Max Verstappen retiring with a gearbox problem. Kimi Raikkonen also failed to finish, allowing Red Bull to edge further clear of Ferrari in the battle for second place in the Constructors' Championship with Sebastian Vettel finishing behind Ricciardo in fourth.

Red Bull are now 53 points ahead of the Italian team, while Ricciardo closes in on being the top non-Mercedes driver, 50 points clear of Vettel in third place in the drivers' standings with three races remaining.

Ricciardo said: "Obviously Max and Kimi had their misfortunes so it was just me and Seb out there, but we still gained a little bit on Ferrari so we're looking good, we'll try and keep going like this and get on the podiums for the last few races."

On Sunday the action moves to Mexico.

'I need to choose someone who can turn Dons around'

Karl bows out after thanking supporters

BY CIARAN THOMAS

sport@onemk.co.uk

IT WAS the end of an era at MK Dons as Karl Robinson's six-and-a-half-year reign as manager came to an end on Sunday, after he left the club by mutual consent.

Dons lost 3-0 to Southend on Saturday, dropping to 19th in League One, a position chairman Pete Winkelman said was unacceptable.

Winkelman admitted parting with Robinson had been tough, but necessary, with the club currently 'going backwards' following last season's relegation.

"It's been a hard few days," he said. "It wasn't just losing again at home, it was the manor of the defeat.

"I saw Karl immediately after, we looked at each other, both emotional and we knew something had changed.

"We thought let's sleep on it and the next morning we were feeling no better so as chairman I have to react to the circumstances.

"I didn't think in a million years I would be in this position with Karl, I like him enormously and he's done some amazing things, the game against Man United and promotion to the Championship.

"Ironically promotion changed the nature of the club and we came back to League One with the burden of expectancy.

"We need to be a Championship club and this club needs to be a Premier League club one day, but where we can't be is 19th in League One, we're going backwards not forwards."

Winkelman will not be rushing into appointing a new manager, with Richie Barker set to take charge of Saturday's trip to Sheffield United.

Dons have already had 200 names put forward for the job and while Winkelman has previously looked to give young managers an opportunity, he suggested he may opt for a more experienced head.

"I want to take my time a little bit, I don't imagine moving into interviews until next week.

"We've always had a lot of people interested in our jobs, this time it's worldwide, I'm not exaggerating if it's around 200.

"We've got to listen to the market and see what we've got, if it was the start of the season, I'd be much more likely to do what we normally do, find someone new and exciting.

"We've had great success from Paul Ince to Roberto [di Matteo] to Karl, the difference is we're in the season and we're in trouble, I need to choose someone who can turn that around."

Tough times: MK Dons chairman Pete Winkelman admitted it was hard parting with manager Karl Robinson, pictured KARL Robinson left the stadium pitch for the final time as MK Dons manager on Saturday, blowing kisses and waving to the crowd in a manner that suggested he knew his time was up.

After six-and-a-half years as manager, and a previous year as assistant, Robinson parted company with the club by mutual consent on Sunday.

Speaking on Saturday, prior to the announcement, in what proved to be his farewell speech, Robinson wanted to thank the fans and said he would come back stronger.

"If it is to be, I want to say thank you to everyone who's supported me over seven-and-a-half years.

"Those who turned [against me] were once those who supported and I thank them for everything they've done for me.

"The desire I have for this football club has been far greater than anyone who'll ever lead it but sometimes results are the reality of the industry.

"It's not always the manager as I back myself against anyone, I believe I'm a good coach, but when we don't have the quality for me to deal with, I ultimately take responsibility.

"This time has been some of the most difficult and most challenging of my career but there's been far better managers than me sacked in their career and I'll come back stronger."
